

May 21, AD 143

July 13, AD 156

OLMEC culture

Earliest writing yet deciphered in the New World consists of 465 GLYPHS Carved on an 8-ft stone found on a river near La MOJARRA. The Text records the dates May 21, AD 143 and July 13, AD 156, perhaps marking the reign of a warrior-king called HARVEST MOUNTAIN LORD.

This record predates MAYA GLYPHS
The language in the text is ZOQUEAN, an early ancestor of four languages spoken today in Vera Cruz, Tabasco, Oaxaca and Chiapas.

Map-Page 94-95 Nat'l Geo Nov 1993

143

The Antonine Baths at Carthage were begun by Antoninus Pius in 143